

Moliner Percussion Program 2026

Intensive High-Performance Course for Elite Percussionists

The Moliner Elite Percussion Program 2026 is an exclusive international program for advanced percussionists seeking to elevate their technique, musical interpretation, and professional career through direct contact with David Moliner, high-intensity group classes, and personalized guidance on their repertoire.

This program is unique in offering elite percussionists a combination of intensive training, professional positioning, real-stage experience, and networking with educational institutions.

The program combines:

- Five monthly sessions (April–August 2026), each including an individual session and a group class
- Personalized review of participants' submitted video recordings
- Professional development and career strategies, including networking with managers, programmers, and percussion departments at universities
- Progressive presentation in concert halls, allowing participants to gain experience as soloists with guided advice and mentoring in prestigious venues such as the Elbphilharmonie, Konzerthaus, or international music festivals
- Opportunities to participate in workshops, masterclasses, and university programs, connecting participants with the wider professional and educational percussion community

Program Objectives

- Elevate advanced percussion technique and control (sticking, coordination, interpretation)
- Develop personal repertoire and artistic positioning
- Prepare musicians for professional opportunities (auditions, recitals, concerts)
- Provide direct contact and continuous guidance from a top-level professional
- Support career development during 2026 and 2027

- Gradually introduce participants to the solo concert world, gaining practical stage experience and professional guidance in prestigious international venues
- Facilitate professional networking with managers, festival programmers, and university percussion departments, opening doors for workshops, masterclasses, and collaborations

Course Format and Content

1 Monthly Individual Sessions (intensive personalized feedback)

- Direct, one-on-one guidance from David Moliner
- Review of submitted works each month (no limit on repertoire)
- Feedback on technique, interpretation, repertoire, and personal artistic style
- Advice on improving and positioning the professional career

2 Monthly Group Class (approx. 1 hour)

- Collaborative work on repertoire and advanced techniques
- Exchange of experiences with other elite percussionists
- Strategies for musicality, cohesion, and concert preparation
- Discussion on artistic style and development

3 Professional Development and Promotion

- Strategies for building relationships with managers, agents, and programmers
- Support for promoting professional careers through recordings and visibility
- Artistic and professional planning for mid- to long-term development (2026–2027)

- Progressive live concert experience, including guidance in prestigious venues and festivals
- Opportunities to engage with universities and percussion departments for workshops, masterclasses, and professional collaborations

All sessions and classes will take place online during April and May 2026, with gradual live performance opportunities in prestigious venues later in the program.

Fees and Scholarships

- Complete package: €100 per session (includes one individual + one group class)
- Total: 5 individual sessions + 5 group classes = €500
- Partial or full scholarships available for percussionists residing in developing countries, ensuring global access

Participant Benefits

- Direct monthly contact with David Moliner and extensive feedback on submitted works
- High-intensity individual and group classes
- Professional recordings and portfolio-ready materials
- Professional development strategies and networking opportunities
- Ongoing support throughout 2026–2027 to accelerate participants' careers
- Unique exposure to solo concert opportunities in world-class venues, gaining practical stage experience and professional guidance
- Networking and collaboration opportunities with universities, percussion departments, and professional managers

How to Apply

- Submit a recording of your work (video or audio, maximum 10 minutes)
- Include technical information: instruments, duration, title
- Short biography (optional)
- Submission email: mentoringprogram.moliner@gmail.com
- Deadline: March 31, 2026

Summary

The Moliner Elite Percussion Program 2026 is an intensive high-performance course that combines:

- Individual and group classes with direct feedback from David Moliner
- Extensive video-based evaluation of submitted repertoire
- Professional recordings
- Career development and promotion strategies
- Guided experience in solo concerts at prestigious venues
- Networking and collaborative opportunities with universities and percussion departments
- Scholarships available

Designed for percussionists seeking to consolidate themselves as elite professional artists, with direct guidance from David Moliner throughout 2026 and 2027.